[clockwise from top l.] Ed Ailor talks with Senator Ralph Uthlaut; Mr. Nie, Mr. Green, Mr. Nadler and Mr. Riddles discuss the machine tool program; Mr. Pollock presides at the meeting; Mr. Rakes thanks Senator Uthlaut for his support of Linn Tech; and Mr. Heckman and Mr. Grob take a coffee break.
Some of the occurrences that made the 1979-80 school year at Linn Tech unique

• There was a nuclear accident at Three Mile Island.

• Cathy Pfieffer joined the Women’s Outreach Program.

• The Shah of Iran went into exile; Iranian students took over the American Embassy in Tehran, keeping 50 Americans hostage.

• Phillip Vance won the Foosball tourney.

• Chrysler Corporation asked for and received government support.

• Electronics I won the softball and the volleyball tourneys.

• Gasoline prices went to more than a dollar a gallon.

• Steve Faron won the pool tournament.

• John Wayne died of cancer.

• More than 40 women students were on campus for the first time.

• Gold prices rose to $900 an ounce.

• The U.S.S.R. invaded Afganhistan.

• Carter and Kennedy were the major Democrats running for the Presidency. Reagan, Baker, Connally, Dole, Bush and Anderson were the Republican front runners.

• A mild winter. The first snow of any size did not fall until January 30, 1980.

LOKI. (Loh' Kee) In Norse mythology, Loki was the god of mischief. Though he was sometimes wicked with his practical jokes, he was very cunning and frequently helped the other Norse gods with their problems. In his spirit of fun and helpfulness, we name our yearbook LOKI.

CHEERLEADERS ADD SPIRIT

Pulled muscles, hoarse voices, baking cookies and long practices are some of the behind-the-scenes activities of the Linn Technical College cheerleaders. The year marked a busy one for the squad members: Myrna Sappington, Carol Lohmann, Glenda Radmacher, Renee Gelven, Glenna Boon, and Shirley Van Treece. The Alternates were Donna Wisehart and Kim Riegel. Karen Buckman was the sponsor.

A major change in the 1979-80 squad was the addition of two more cheerleaders than last year's group of four. Tryouts were held in September when members of the faculty and student body selected the most energetic group.

Sugar, spice, chocolate and bananas were some of the ingredients in the treats sold at the bake sales. The cheerleader sponsored bake sales earned enough money to buy two new uniforms. The Student Council matched their earnings and new emblems were also bought. The squad accompanied the basketball team to many “away” games and bolstered their spirits at “home” contests.

It will be a challenge for cheerleaders in years to come to achieve the spirit and enthusiasm of the 1979-80 Tech Cheerleaders. (top) Myrna Sappington Renee Gelven Kim Riegel Shirley Van Treece, Carol Lohmann Glenda Radmacher, Glenna Boon, Donna Wisehart (bottom) Cheerleaders pose for LOKI pictures.

The 1980 LOKI is dedicated to Mr. James Paul Symmonds, Director of Special Services at Linn Tech. It was Mr. Symmonds, years ago, that gave the name "LOKI" to our yearbook.

Mr. Symmonds, in addition to writing proposals for grants and funds for the college, works with and for the students in every way he can. He sponsors both the Student Council and the Cave Club — probably the most active groups on campus.

Because he is the students friend, the staff respectfully dedicates this volume to him.
Once again the yearbook staff has met the February deadline. I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the staff and our advisor, Mr. Livingston, for making this book the finest ever born unto Linn Tech.

Changes were made that sets this book apart from other LOKI yearbooks. Some of which are more copy, more captions, more words. I believe it was worth the extra work.

I wish to thank the Student Council and the student body for making 1979-80 at Linn Tech so much fun. The memory of the dances, movies, games, clubs — how I wish we could have captured it all.

This year has been a triumph for Linn Tech and I am proud to have been part of it.
