THE YEAR IN REVIEW

• Israel invaded Lebanon as far as Beirut to fight the forces of the PLO.
• Jan Swanstrom joined the Linn Tech staff as the Director of the Technical Learning Center.
• Princess Diana and Prince Charles became parents of a boy, and named him William Arthur Philip Louis.
• Outsulation was applied to the Terrill building to provide comfort and an improved appearance.
• The British fought a short war over the Falkland Islands after Argentina invaded them.
• Dan Harris was President of the Student Council.
• E. T. came to earth and invaded almost everyone’s heart.
• John Belushi, Leonid Brezhnev, Henry Fonda, Grace Kelly, Bess Truman and “Satchel” Paige all died this year.
• Carrie Painter taught Communications and was sponsor of The LOOKOUT.
• Interest rates came down, but unemployment remained as one of the nation’s major problems.
• Linn Tech began phase one of reorganization.
• The St. Louis Cardinals won the world series from the Milwaukee Brewers.
• Machine Tool classes had their second annual ‘pig-out’ with a real barbecued hog.
• A mild winter with lots of rain in the fall caused major flooding over the area and state.

The cover of the 1983 LOKI was inspired by Gary Beahan, AR-2.

LOKI (loh’ kee). In Norse mythology, Loki was the god of mischief. Though his practical jokes sometimes injured the other gods, he was very smart and cunning, and often helped the others with their problems. Our yearbook is named in his spirit of fun and helpfulness.

The Linn Tech Eagles, under new coach Matt Victor, undertook a hectic schedule of twenty games for the 1982-83 season. As is nearly always the case at a two-year school, there is little squad member carry-over from one season to the next, and, as a result, a new coach with a new team had many hurdles to get over. Play was sometimes ragged and spotty, but it was always interesting.
Most players on the 1982-83 Eagles were freshmen, which bodes well for next year. Spectators were generally sparse at our home games, but those who attended saw some good teams, some good basketball, and most had a good time.

Some of the identifiable players on these pages are: Rick Stallings (33); Mark Small (00); Ernie Witt (52); James Johnson (25); Ed Schafer (55); and Randy Alsup (11).
Sidney Stuart and Richard Martin show the intensity of a Linn Tech basketball game in their expressions.
JoAnn Fick, "I think I'll join the WPBA". Jeff Coale carefully watches as Pat Bader keeps score. Greg Hayden shows off his form. Teri Stuart, "Whew! I missed my toe, ... barely".

Pat McCollum, "I guess I'll settle for a spare". (Top r.) Rob Dawson, "I hope I get a strike". (Bottom l.) Who's winning?
SOFTBALL
Softball is played as a fall intramural sport at Linn Tech. Teams are formed in each class and/or division, as well as the faculty, and the rivalries become quite intense. Drafting II won the 1982-83 championship.
POOL
Sooner or later, nearly every student at Linn Tech shoots a game of pool in the lounge. Both men and women avail themselves of the opportunity to emulate "Minnesota Fats". Pool shooting, generally eight-ball, is the most popular activity outside the classroom.
Coin games, particularly the electronic ones such as Pac-Man, have a large following at Linn Tech. Male and female alike enjoy playing. Many students also like to refine their skill at using the flippers on the regular pinball machines.
A small band of hardy souls form the Karate Club at Linn Tech. The club meets twice weekly for their workouts. They convert the cafeteria into a gym to exercise and work out on the bag.
CHEERLEADERS

Cheerleaders build school spirit as well as pyramids. Cheerleaders for Linn Tech in 1982-83 were (top to bottom) Debi Hill; Shelly Riggins; Kelly Johnson; Julea Nowack; Joyce Saling and Carol Scheele.
Boys were a new addition to the squad this year. They helped with acrobatics as well as providing strength.

These cheerleaders are: (l. to r.) Larry Lister; Bruce Bounds; Phil Wisch; Sheryl Maire and Michele Glasford.
Another popular intramural sport is volleyball. Students and faculty alike enjoy the fast pace and excitement.

(clockwise from top r.) Walking to class; surveying in the park; time to relax; Linn Tech’s own pet.
Everyone enjoys dancing to the music of Amber. (Top, r.) Brad Smith (DD-2) and Christy Kremer were winners for "Best Costume". (Bottom, l.) Even the ghouls seem to be having fun.
(Top l.) What you see is what you get.
Organizations

Today's Non-Traditional women is an organization of the women at Linn Tech. It is quite active, sponsoring a workshop in conjunction with the college each spring to inform high school seniors of non-traditional work and life styles. They put on skits and invite guest speakers such as a female FBI agent (below) and the pilot of the “Gossamer Albatross” (opposite page, lower l.) They wash cars and have bake sales to finance their activities.
One of the most popular activities sponsored by TNT is the pie-eating contest. Both students and faculty seem to enjoy getting the gooey pie filling in their faces (and beards). This year’s contest was won by Frank Rericha who won his heat and the eat-off.
The Ham Club reorganized this year after having been disbanded for several years. The club's big project is to finish the repeater (l.). Mr. Jim Phillips (below) is sponsor and guiding hand for the club. Ken Garner is shown with some of the donated equipment that allows the club to function.
BRIDGES is the campus literary and art magazine. Published annually, original student works of prose, poetry, and art are collected and collated by the staff of the magazine. (Clockwise from upper l.) The staff under the leadership of Debi Hill meets to plan the format; Sue Nesmeyer points out a feature to Shannon Hambel; Everyone has a voice in staff meetings.
(1.) Keith Watermann looks over the shoulder of Carol Scheele. (above) Debi makes corrections in the proof copy.
The student paper, the LOOKOUT, is published monthly under the direction of Maria Tappel, Editor, and Mrs. Carrie Painter, Sponsor. (Clockwise from upper l.) Shelly Riggins, Marla Tappel, Mrs. Painter (head bowed) and Debbie Tillman. Sue Nesmeyer is staff artist. Shannon Hambel, Pam Gobble and Kevin Bird eat lunch as they discuss their assignments.

LOKI
Each year the yearbook staff tries to out-perform the previous one making a more interesting, attractive and informative book. It seems each year it becomes more and more of a hassle, but each year it gets done ... thanks to the input and drive of the staff when the deadline approaches.

Pictured on these pages are some of the staff for the 1983 LOKI. (Opposite page, clockwise from top l.) Mark S. Luecke (EL-2) was the editor; Lawree Stalker (AC-1); Debi Hill (DD-2) and Shannon Hambel (DD-2); and our intrepid typist, Julie (EL-2). (This page l.) Mr. Livingston, Sponsor; (below l.) Teri Stuart (AC-2) and JoAnn Fick (AC-2).

Others contributed from time to time, and we thank them for their efforts in helping with the book.
Mr. Osman has been teaching and assisting students at Linn Tech for fifteen years. His willingness to help either students or faculty members with their problems, or to participate in the pie-eating contest, causes the staff of the 1983 LOKI to dedicate this year's book to our friend, "Sarge".
I would like to take this opportunity to thank the yearbook staff and a special thanks to Mr. Livingston for all his guidance.

I hope this yearbook has captured some of the fond memories of this year for everyone as it has for me.
