The 1985 LOKI

LINN TECH

LINN TECHNICAL COLLEGE

LINN, MISSOURI 65051
HIGHLIGHTS of 1984–1985

In national politics, the Democratic party nominated Walter Mondale for President, and he selected Geraldine Ferraro as the first woman Vice-Presidential nominee. In the election, however, President Ronald Reagan and Vice-President George Bush won in a landslide, carrying every state except Minnesota.

A new program, Office Technology, was started with an enrollment of seven students. Mrs. Mary Lou Broman was hired as instructor.

The Olympic summer games were held in Los Angeles. The USSR did not compete, and the United States won many gold medals. Mary Lou Retton was one of the stars, scoring a perfect “10” on the vault to capture the gold.

John Stuart (Electronics) won the annual FUN RUN and Dan Schenherr (Auto Mechanics) won the Frisbee Fling at the “Welcome Back” to school picnic.

William Schroeder became the nation’s second artificial heart transplant recipient. His faith and good cheer encouraged everyone.

Ron Porterfield joined the Electronics staff, and Doyle Moad began as an instructor in Heavy Equipment.

The most tragic episode of the year was the drought in central Africa, where thousands died of starvation. Much of the emphasis was on Ethiopia, but the situation was critical over much of the continent.

Electronics II beat all kinds of great competition in winning the softball tournament. Air Conditioning spiked their way to the volleyball championship.

Indira Gandhi was assassinated and was succeeded by her son, Rajiv, in India.

The Statue of Liberty was found to need renovation and a public $30 million dollar restoration project, headed by Lee Iacocca, was begun in April.

Astronauts operating independently from the space shuttle, were able to capture a non-functioning satellite, put it into the shuttle’s cargo bay, and return it to earth for repairs.

BOARD OF EDUCATION
Clockwise from top, (1) President Denny McDonald presides at the business meeting; (2) Mr. McDonald (3-M Company), Mr. Fred Wickes (Central Mo. Machine Co.), and Mr. Steve Chillis (Chillis Machine Shop) advise the Machine Tool department; (3) Mr. Ron Pringer (McDonnell-Douglas) and Mr. Dane Brockmeueller (Southwestern Bell) discuss the Electronics program as Mssrs. Davis, Woods, and Miller attend; (4) Mr. Joe Helmig (Capitol City Industries) and Mr. Albert Balkenbusch (Balkenbusch Excavating) laugh at Mr. Kenneth Balkenbusch’s remarks.
Clockwise from below, (1) Mr. Kliethermes grills the steaks for the annual dinner; (2) Ms. Bonnie Schroder (Governor’s Office) and Mrs. Broman are amused by the unseen comic; (3) Mr. Schenherr prepares his notes while Damon Berti (Belcan Engineering) gathers his thoughts; (4) Mr. Peters points out instructional information to Mr. Gary Dunkle (Dunkle Distributing).

On a small school's paper, the editor has to do it all. Counter-clockwise from top right, Kathy Souchek writes copy, composes that copy, pastes it onto the form, and checks it as it comes from the press.
Among the others who contribute their talents to the LOOKOUT are (clockwise from below): Mrs. Fritz, the sponsor; Julea Nowack and Laura Warren, who typed copy; and the printer, Mr. Dickneite, without whose efforts there would be no paper at all.
Clockwise from right. President Lori Broman wields the gavel for second semester. Jerry Steakley was president first semester. "Bo" Curtman and Paul Valleroy (Parliamentarian) ponder the question. Geoff Aitch pays close attention to the motion.
Clockwise from top. Mark Boyer (Vice-President), Lori Broman (President), and Mary Otto (Secretary-Treasurer) are the 1984-85 officers. Stan Atwell is in charge of the intramural program. Mark makes his point. Tim Moeslin and Dave Freeman find humor in the proceedings.
T-N-T
T-N-T is the women's organization at Linn Tech. It is involved in many activities. Each fall it sponsors a watermelon feed for the new women students. It sponsors bake sales to raise funds for their spring workshop for prospective students. They sponsor monthly talks by women in non-traditional fields. They also sponsor "Cans for Christmas," a food gathering competition among the classes on campus with the food being donated to the needy.
TODAY'S NON-TRADITIONAL WOMEN

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES
One of the first activities each fall is the Linn Tech Fun Run. Students and faculty from many of the departments participate in the run. The course begins on the campus and follows Highway 50 to the Court House and returns.

Opposite page, clockwise, the start was a fair one. Mr. Gage fits his daughter with his shirt, and Mrs. Fritz shows her pleasure at being the first woman finisher.
In the fall, softball fever takes hold of the campus as teams from every department try to win the championship. The photos on these two pages are indicative of the fun and spirited play of the competitors.
IRON PUMPERS

Volleyball is one of the best liked winter activities at LTC. The winners this year were Air Conditioning students.
Every Monday afternoon, the Linn Tech Bowling League fires up at Rainbow Lanes. Below, Sandra Zuck shows her form, while Scott Batts (lower right) sends his ball on its way.
Students from every department participate in bowling, and there is even a faculty team. Clockwise from below: Charlene Theiss watches as Scott Volkart delivers his ball. Jerry Steakley concentrates on score keeping. Debbie Glavin keeps her eye on the spot and Mrs. Swanstrom walks away from the result of her first roll.

Clockwise from top left. Stan "Eaglebert" Atwell gets a little warm in his costume. The cheerleaders try to get the crowd's spirit going with a floor cheer. Standing along the sidelines, they encourage the players on to victory. Ann Frank and Geoffrey Aitch rest after practice. Bottom to top, Laura Warren, Karen Koon, Denise Hawkinberry, Ann Frank and Julea Nowack form a pyramid.

The students enjoy shooting pool, playing pinball, watching TV, and visiting with each other.
Linn Tech games are generally close in score, and hard fought between teams. The calibre of the Eagle's opponents is about equal to our team which makes for interesting basketball. Everyone who attends the games seems to enjoy them.
Linn Tech is a member of the Cross-State Conference, an association of two-year colleges. There is a good chance that the Eagles will win the conference crown this year.
HALLOWEEN

HALLOWEEN

Clockwise from right. ZZ Top made a prize-winning appearance. Marty Moon and Bob Groppe. "Bo" Curtman. Jeanette Voss came as a smurf. Ann Frank was the sailor.
Clockwise from below. Don Welch represented the chain-saw massacre. The wolfman and jungle fighter were some of the costumes. Ron Voepel was a pirate and Mark Solari dressed as a mummy. Gary Helms as a cone head gets stamped as a monster man glares at the photographer.
