AVERAGE
EARNINGS

Degree Offered

- Associate of Applied Science
- Radiation Protection
- Reactor Operations

Potential Careers:

- Qualified Radiation Protection Technician
- Utility Operations Technician

Program Highlights:

- Students graduate fully qualified for Radiation Protection Standard Task Qualifications.
- Industry curriculum is utilized throughout the program to provide students the opportunity to start as qualified technicians.

The instructors are all highly experienced in the field. They've worked in nuclear facilities and out in commercial power settings, so working with that much experience gives you a lot of confidence that you're going to be ready to jump right into the job after graduation.
